To Our Valued Customer,

With propylene monomer continued in short supply and pricing surging forward, PP (polypropylene) resin price continued to rise drastically in recent months. It is imperative we pass on the raw material cost to remain financially viable.

Effective with shipments on or after January 1, 2010, prices for all AmTopp BOPP films will be increased by US$ 0.07 per pound.

If you have any questions on the new prices, please contact your AmTopp Sales or Customer Service Representatives.

We appreciate your understanding and thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely
