To Our Valued Customer,

With propylene monomer and PP (polypropylene) resin prices going up over 40% in the last six months and showing no sign of letting up, it is imperative we pass on these raw material cost increases to remain financially viable.

Effective with shipments on or after May 1, 2010, prices for all AmTopp BOPP films will be increased by US$ 0.09 per pound.

If you have any questions on the new prices, please contact your AmTopp Sales or Customer Service Representatives.

We appreciate your understanding and thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely
