To Our Valued Customer,

After hitting a low in December last year, crude oil and petrochemical feedstock prices have steadily been increasing since. These have affected the cost of raw materials for BOPP directly. It also indirectly affected the cost of our process and the cost of transportation. It is imperative that these cost escalations are understood and passed on fully along the supply chain for us to remain viable.

Effective with shipments on or after June 15, 2009, prices for all AmTopp BOPP films will be increased by US$ 0.08 per pound.

If you have any questions on the new prices, please contact your AmTopp Sales or Customer Service Representatives.

We appreciate your understanding and thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely
